VEGETINE HE DID, AND WAS CURED.

Delaware, O., Feb'y. 16, 1877. Mr. H. R. Stevens:

Dear Sir—I wish to give you this testimony, that you may know, and let others know, what Vegetine has done for me. About two years ago a small sore came on my leg; it soon became a large ulcer, so troublesome that I consuited the doctor, but I got no relief, growing worse from day to day. I suffered terribly; I could not rest day or night; I was so reduced my friends thought I would never recover; I consulted a doctor at Columbus. I followed his Mr. H. R. Slevens: consulted a doctor at Columbus. I followed his advice; it did no good. I can truly say I was discouraged. At this time I was looking over my newspaper; I saw your advertisement of Vegetine, the 'Great Blood Purifier' for cleansing the blood from all impurities, curing Humors, Ulcars &c. I said to my family, I will try some of the Vegetine. Before I had used the first bottle I began to feel better. I made up my mind I had got the right medicine at last. I could now sleep well at nights. I continued taking the Vegetine. I took thirteen bottles. My health is good. The ulcer is gone, and I am able to attend to business. I paid about four hundred dollars for medicine and doctors before I bought the Vegetine. I have recommendconsulted a doctor at Columbus. I followed his fore I bought the Vegetine. I have recommendod Vegetine to others with good success. I always keep a bottle of it in the house now. It is a most excellent medicine.

Vory respectfully yours, F. ANTHONI

Mr. Anthoni is one of the pioneers of Delaware, Chio. He settled here in 1834. He is a wealthy gentleman, of the firm of F. Anthoni & Sons. Mr. Anothoni is extensively known, especially among the Germans. He is well known in Cincinnati. He is respected by all.

IMPURE BLOOD.—In morbid conditions of the blood are many diseases; such as salt rheum, ring werm, boils, carbuneles, sores, ulcers and pimples. In this condition of the blood try the Vegetine, and cure these affections. As a blood Vegetine, and cure these affections. As a blood

Dorchester, Mass., June 11. Dr. Slevens: Dr. Sterens:

Dear Sir—I feel it my duty to say one word in regard to the great benefit I have received from the use of one of the greatest wonders of the world; it is your Vegetine. I have been one of the greatest sufferers for the last eight years that over could be living. I do sincerely thank my God and your Vegetine for the relief I have got. The Rheumalism has pained me to such an extent, that my feet broke, out in sores. For the last that my feet broke out in sores. For the last three years I have not been able to walk; now I can walk and sleep, and do my work as well as ever I did, and I must say I owe jit all to your blood purifier, Vegetine.

The Lee Statue.

About the 22d of this month a contract was made in Lexington, Rockbridge county, Virginia, for all the brick and stone work of a building which is to receive the monument to the great Confederate General, designed by Valentine. This monument is a tomb bearing the recumbest figure, in remarkable likeness, of General Lee. He is in uniform, the sabre has just slipped from his grasp, and his cloak partly covers his limbs, quietly composed. The attitude is perhaps rather of deep rest than of death. It is a beautiful work of art, and worthy of the effort made in Lexington to give it an appropriate shelter. The remains of General Lee, of his wife and of other deceased members of his family will be interred in a large vault immediately under the apartment which will receive the statue. After the election of the General to the Presidency of the Washington and Lee University in Lexington, there was built in the grounds of the institution, and mainly through the ef forts of its l'resident, a small church or chapel intended for the public service of the university. It is a neat, simple brick building, rather Nor man in style, of a design selected and modified by the General. It had a very small chancel, mostly for the purpose of making a stairway to the platform for speaking. This has been removed, and a building, which about represents in form and dimensions the chancel of an Episcopal church is soon to be erect-VEGETINE.—The great success of the Vegetine as a cleanser and purifier of the blood is shown beyond a doubt by the great numbers of open vestibule, and reach through a large of open vestibule, and reach through a large open arch. Within this vestibule are doors, one of iron, opening into the vault, two others to the basement of the present church, and one to a covered stairway reaching conveniently to a vestibule above, which divides the church from the mausoleum or chapel. One of the lower vestibule doors opens in the office of General Lee. It is found in the condition he left it. It is carefully preserved, cleaned or dusted, and the visitor sees it exactly as the General did for the last time. All the new building accords with the present church, but it is of very superior construetion and entirely fire proof. The old chancel arch remains; a corresponding one in the mau-HGHTINE soleum walls gives a full view of the statue, but is arranged with heavy iron sliding doors. and every precaution has been taken to out off even the access of smoke to the mausoleum chamber. This portion of the building, about twenty-five feet square, is to be built inside of Baltimore pressed brick, laid with red joints. and finished with a considerable quantity of cream colored stene. These colors will contrast well with the pure white of the statue and its heavy base. The ceiling of the mausoleum will be of ground glass in the panels, of a richly moulded iron construction. The light will come in through a skylight on the northern side of the roof. There will be in the mausoleum, also, two windows for the admission of

The iron work for the roof doors and other parts of this building will be procured in Baltimere, where a contract has been made for it and other partions of the structure. The design is also from this city, and was furnished by Mr. J. Crawford Neilson.—Baltimore

THE GREAT BOTTLE TRICK SWINDLE. - This most glaring yet successful of old time hoaxes was perpetrated in 1749. The Duke of Montague wagered that, let a man advertise the most impossible thing in the world, he would find fools enough in London to fill a play house Composed of 80) lbs No. 1 Peruvian Guano, 1100 to see it and pay handsomely for the privilege. lbs Ammoniated Dissolved Bono, and 100 lbs "Surely," said Lord Chesterfield, "if a man should say he would jamp into a quart bottle, nobody would believe that." A wager was made on this basis, and the following advertise ment inserted in the papers : "At the new theater in the Haymarket, on Monday next, the twelfth instant, is to be seen a person who performs the several most sur prising things following: I. He takes a common walking cane from any el' the speciators, and thereon plays the music of every instrument now in use, and likewise sings to perfec tion. 2. He presents you with a common wine bottle, which any of the spectators may first examine; the bottle is placed on a table in the middle of the stage, and he (without any equivocation) goes into it in the sight of all the pectators, and sings in it; during his stay in the bottle any person may handle it, and see plainly that it does not exceed a common tay ern bottle. Those on the stage, or in the boxes. may come in masked habits (if agreeable to them); and the performer, if desired, will in form them who they are. Stage, 7s. 6d."

At the designated time the theater was cram med from pit to dome. When the appointed hour passed and the conjurer did not appear a horrible uproar rose. One person in the sudience proposed, it the lookers on would pay half price, to crawl into a pint bottle. Finally some one threw a lighted candle on the stage, when ten misutes mere the theater was gutted, the benches converted into a large bonfire in front of the building, and the drop curtain hoisted on a pole, presumably as a banner, to the tri umph of public gullibility. A number of people were blamed for this heax, notably Foote, the actor, who was one of the lessees of the theater, but the real author was the Duke of
